About Lime Springs and the Community Fund

Lime Springs, Iowa is a small community of approximately 500 residents who live, work, and play in the area. As interest in living in Lime Springs has grown in recent years among young families, so has the need to invest in local infrastructure and other improvements. Lime Springs residents and donors, Patrick Boyle and Randy and Jan Cray, have established the Lime Springs Area Community Endowment Fund with the Howard County Community Foundation to ensure a permanent source of funding to support community betterment activities in the Lime Springs area. A group of committed volunteers have been named to the advisory board with the goal of utilizing the community endowment fund to ensure Lime Springs remains home for many for generations to come.
